Save on Utah Powder Skiing/Boarding, Lodging & Transportation at Brian Head Resort

Brian Head Resort offers 50%-off deals on Utah powder, and area lodges offer several new lodging/skiing/boarding packages. Its one of America's "Top Family Getaways," according to the Family Travel Forum.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PRLog (Press Release) – Jan 13, 2010 – Brian Head, UT – Several new lodging/skiing/boarding packages and multiple promotions offering 50%-off adult lift tickets have been introduced at Southern Utah's Brian Head Resort, the best-kept skiing and snowboarding secret in the Southwestern States and one of America's "Top Family Getaways," according to the Family Travel Forum.

Just opened in December 2009, the Grand Lodge at Brian Head is offering its "Après Ski Package" starting at $189 per night based on double occupancy ($94.50 per-person). The package is valid Sunday thru Thursday and includes accommodations for two in a Resort Queen or a Resort King room, two Brian Head Resort adult lift tickets per night stayed and two appetizers per day at The Lift Lounge & Patio. The package is offered through 4/11/10. For these and many other events and packages, visit www.grandlodgebrianhead.com or call (435) 677-9000.

Enhanced with the most modern of amenities, the new, 100-room Grand Lodge at Brian Head pays homage to the majestic beauty of the southern Utah landscape with stone, timber and log walls, rough-hewn wood, wood beam ceilings, stone fireplaces and bronze metal and granite accented furnishings. Guests can enjoy an indoor pool with cascading waterfall, indoor and outdoor hot tubs, a fitness center and the Red Leaf Spa. The Lodge is pet-friendly, offers complimentary parking and all rooms are non-smoking.

Long-time Brian Head lodging favorite, Cedar Breaks Lodge and Spa is offering a "Stay 3 Ski Free" package, a three-night package that includes accommodations in a newly remodeled King or Junior Villa and four all area lift tickets for just $114 per night based on double occupancy ($57 per-person) –for a total, three-night-package price of $340. Last night to check in with this package is 4/6/10. More information is at www.cedarbreakslodge.com or 1-888-AT-CEDAR. Cedar Breaks Lodge has been serving Brian Head visitors for over 13 years, and its accommodations include 118 comfortable Villas with seven different floor plans perfect for couples and families up to eight people, underground parking, 24/7 front desk, (two) restaurants, a cocktail lounge, indoor pool with a spacious deck, steam room, dry sauna, (two) fireside hot tubs, gift shop and the Cedar Breaks Spa. At Cedar Breaks Lodge guests will find all the amenities and service second to none that will make their next visit to Brian Head memorable and enjoyable.

Each package requires a deposit with a 72 hour (prior to the arrival date) cancellation policy, does not include tax or gratuities, and is subject to availability.

Brian Head is offering steep discounts: A $39 package for first-time-beginner skiers or snowboarders 13 years-old or older. It includes a 2-hour morning lesson or 2-hour afternoon lesson, a lift ticket and rental equipment. This offer is good January 22, 23 and 24, 2010. The ski area is also offering 50%-off adults lift tickets Monday through Friday during non-holiday periods for those presenting a police, fire or military ID at the ticket window, for everyone purchasing 8 gallons or more of fuel at KB Express or Terrible Herbst locations in California, Nevada, Arizona and Utah (www.terribleherbst.com), and for all Snow Jam Preferred Card holders (www.brianhead.com/special\_offers). Those purchasing a Dixie Direct Book and presenting their Dixie Direct membership card (www.dixiedirectcard.com) at the ticket window will receive a "Buy one Get one FREE" Brian Head Resort lift ticket. (Holiday periods: 1/16-1/18; 2/13-2/15)

About Brian Head Resort: at 9,600-11,307 feet above sea level, it is the highest ski resort in Utah. It averages 400 inches yearly of the "Greatest Snow on Earth," has three terrain parks, 65 ski trails and 650 acres of ski terrain for downhill and cross-country skiing, snow tubing, snowboarding and snowshoeing from mid-November through mid-April. There are also assorted options for après ski dining and drinking, entertainment, ecotourism, sleigh rides, snowmobiling, snowshoeing and much more. Brian Head's very family-friendly atmosphere includes an uncrowded setting with no lift-lines, an award-winning, all-inclusive children's program for ages 3-12 at Navajo Lodge Learning Center, an entire mountain and facility dedicated to kids and newcomers to winter sports. And there is a state-licensed day care facility. Brian Head is likely closer to more national parks than any other ski resort town in North America: Zion, Bryce, Capitol Reef, The Grand Canyon, and Great Basin are all within easy reach. Cedar Breaks National Monument is two miles from Brian Head.

Brian Head Resort Story Ideas

Best Snow: Brian Head offers Utah Powder, averaging 400 inches yearly of the "Greatest Snow on Earth." It is the driest snow in North America, with an average moisture content of just 4%.

Best Value: Brian Head's full-day adult lift ticket is among North America's best ski value: $45 Brian Head, $37 Mammoth and $70 Heavenly. Brian Head has no lift lines; it is one of the best-kept skiing and snowboarding secrets in the southwestern states. Lift/lodging packages are offered, so families can afford to stay for longer periods.

Getting there: Brian Head is 3 hours east of Las Vegas and Delta Connection Carrier, SkyWest Airlines, serves airports in Cedar City, 20 miles to the southwest, and St. George, 77 miles to the south. Private airplanes and jets can also use the Parowan airport, 12 miles northwest.

Best for Families: Brian Head is among America's "Top Family Getaways," according to the Family Travel Forum. The ski resort's very family-friendly atmosphere includes an uncrowded setting with no lift-lines, an award-winning, all-inclusive children's program for ages 3-12 at Navajo Lodge Learning Center, an entire mountain and facility dedicated to kids and newcomers to winter sports. And there is a state-licensed day care facility.

Plenty for advanced skiers and snowboarders: Over 40 intermediate and advanced runs, multiple terrain parks and a halfpipe are available at Brian Head; at 9,600-11,307 feet above sea level, it is the highest ski resort in Utah. When conditions permit, the double black-diamond chutes and bowls of Brian Head Peak are available for expert skiers and snowboarders via the Resort's Peak Express Snow Cat Service or hiking from the top of Chair 2.

Plenty of terrain parks: Brian Head Resort offers three excellent terrain parks for varying ability levels, including beginner, intermediate, and advanced-level. They feature more than 30 snow features including rails, fun boxes and a halfpipe.

Plenty off the slopes: Brian Head Resort offers much beyond skiing and snowboarding: après ski dining and beverage, entertainment, spa treatments, ecotourism, sleigh rides, snowmobiling, snowshoeing, snow-tubing and more.

Best Combo: A combo ski trip/Las Vegas or ski trip/national park is convenient for Southern Californians, as Brian Head is just three hours beyond Vegas off Interstate 15 and Brian Head is likely closer to more national parks than any other ski resort town in North America. Zion, Bryce, Capitol Reef, The Grand Canyon, and Great Basin are all within easy reach. Cedar Breaks National Monument is two miles from Brian Head.
